

SAWA 2023

January 23rd to December 11th 2023

Preliminary Program Schedule

Each year the SAWA program addresses essential museological questions such as

- What is a museum in local and International perspectives?
- What are participative strategies for past and present in collecting and documenting?
- How do we move from single to shared authorship with Curatorial strategies?
- How do we enable access, engagement and interpretation?

This year we will look at it through the lens of climate change and its consequences for the field to become more sustainable.

The program's core consists of two on-site workshops, each lasting eleven days:

One in Sharjah and one in Berlin. These 2-week-workshops are linked by seven online seminars and framed by an online welcome & introduction as well as a wrap up & farewell. Participants will exchange knowledge throughout the program and contribute to ongoing projects published via the SAWA website (<https://sawa.htw-berlin.de/glossary/> and <https://sawa.htw-berlin.de/objects-in-dialogue/>) Each on-site workshop consists of 4 modules. Each module's content is jointly developed and taught by an Arab-European teaching team and pairs short inspirational impulses with hands on exercises. Theoretical input is always reassessed in practice-orientated group work. It allows the participants to gain insights not only into the practice of the Sharjah Museums and the State Museums of Berlin, but also to actively exchange around best practice from each participant's institution.

Final Meeting

- December 11th SAWA Wrap Up

Please note: This preliminary program might be subject to modifications. The final program will be published once all applications have been reviewed.

Special Note concerning an alternative program format

Given the world-wide pandemic and the current status of uncertainty about its development, organizers will decide in due course whether to replace the onsite events by an online version. This would imply modifications of the program which would be announced to participants. In the case of a completely virtual event, SAWA could support the alumni by covering the costs for sufficient and secured data quantities (software support, no hardware support).
